Market value is the most likely price your property would sell in a fair and open market. It is not the same as things like what you paid for it, the cost to build it, insurance value, or any special values like inheritance or foreclosure price.

Market price is the actual sale price of a property. Sometimes it's the same as market value, but not always.

Your property's value might be adjusted if there are corrections to details like size or number of bathrooms, if new information like damage is found, or anything else that could affect how much your property could sell for.
